

BING FOR A "COUNT."

John Kahn sentenced for Auto-plane Swindle.
John Kahn, who several years ago bought the De Villiers gave away an automobile to Gary and was sentenced to five years for not less than two years and more than three years.
Judge Brown in General Sessions.

He was convicted six weeks ago of defrauding the Curtis Hydroplane Company out of $5,000 in the alleged sale of a Gnome motor in 1912.
Glenn Curtis had a contract with the Government to make a hydroplane and a 100 horse power Gnome motor was specified. Kahn, representing the Gnome company in this country, bought a motor from a Boston man instead of having a new one imported. It was sold to Curtis as new.
The Government rejected the hydro-plane and Curtis had Kahn arrested.
Kahn says he will appeal.

UP-STATE PUBLIC
SERVICE BOARD
IN QUEER LIGHT

Albany Traction Inquiry Held Up Eight Months and Part of Report Eliminated.

ALBANY, March 5.—An investigation of the local traction situation was delayed at least eight months by Commissioner Martin S. Decker, and a statement of the financial condition of the Albany United Traction Company was eliminated from the final report after several conferences with Chairman Seymour Van Santvoord, according to testimony to-day in the Thompson Committee's investigation of the up-State Public Service Commission.

The testimony was given reluctantly by Charles R. Barnes, inspector of electric railways for the commission.
It was supplemented by much documentary evidence placed in the record by Counsel William F. Hayward.
Barnes testified that first complaints against local service were made in 1906, and that his investigation was not made until 1914. In the mean time, he testified, the commission adopted in May, 1912, a resolution authorizing the investigation. The resolution did not reach him until eight months later.

As an explanation of the delay Hayward offered in evidence a penciled memorandum signed "M. S. D.", which requested that Barnes do nothing in the case "until he sees me." The memorandum was in Decker's handwriting, Barnes said. Barnes testified that subsequently he had a talk with Decker.

"This talk," Barnes continued, "was to the effect that James S. Hamilton had recently been appointed general manager of the United Traction Company and that he desired some time to show the commission he was going to improve the service." In his first rough draft of the report of the Albany investigation Barnes included a statement of the financial condition of the company which did not appear in the final draft. Barnes would not say it was withdrawn at the request of Van Santvoord.

He said, however, that it was eliminated after he had several conferences on the subject with Van Sanvoord, and he had suggested that the Barnes financial statement be eliminated and a statement compiled by the commission's financial experts from the company's annual reports be substituted. No financial statement appeared in the report.

FEDERALS THREATEN
BIG LEAGUES WITH ANOTHER LEGAL FIGHT

Attorney Gates Says Organized Baseball Is Still Tampering With Players.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 5.—What action, if any, the Federal League can take against organized baseball for alleged tampering with players, mentioned in the complaint filed before Federal Judge Landis at Chicago some weeks ago, was to be considered by President Gilmore of the Federals when he arrived here late to-day to confer with the league's attorney, E. M. Gates.

Mr. Gates said a supplemental complaint probably would be filed with Judge Landis after his decision in the injunction case, bringing to the attention of the court the alleged action of organized baseball in enticing certain players to break their valid contracts with Federal League clubs.

Since the filing of the suit in the Federal Court in Chicago, Mr. Gates, in a statement to-day, said four players, Austin, Perritt, Wingo and Caldwell, had been induced to break their contracts with the Federals. In persuading these players to do this, Mr.
Gates said, organized baseball was acting "directly in line with the charges made in the original complaint in this cause as to what organized baseball is not only threatening to do but is doing. The Federal League and its constituent members are consistently refraining from negotiating with players for their services who are not free to enter in the contract with them."

Mr. Gates admitted the Federal League had a defense fund, but said that statements that it was to be used to carry on a warfare against organized baseball, if taken to mean that the Federals were to violate their past policy of signing players other than those free to do so, were untrue.
He declared that the Federals would not carry on a warfare or controversy with organized baseball, unless forced into it.

If these shirts were cut one at a time in the custom maker's way they could not fit any better, and this is why: The same exactitude in sizes and proportions is followed, but the new electrical machines cut a hundred or more at a time without the variation of a sixteenth of an inch. So they cannot help being precisely right in sizes, lengths and widths.

The way they are made and the way they will wear, as well as quality, is what makes these shirts and pajamas worth every cent of $7.00 to $1.50—or more.
When it comes to buying them at 79c it is some bargain!
